

ACADEMIC & INDUSTRY INTERSECTION CONFERENCE

Atlanta Clinical & Translational Science Institute
Community · Discovery · Training

5th Annual Academic & Industry Intersection Conference
Medical Devices: Partnering for Innovations
April 24
Georgia Tech Research Institute Conference Center

AGENDA

8:30 a.m. Welcome by David Stephens, MD, Principal Investigator, Atlanta Clinical & Translational Science Institute and Vice President for Research, Robert W. Woodruff Health Sciences Center, Emory University
Introduction by Katie Kirkpatrick, PE, Senior Vice President, Business Higher Education, Metro Atlanta Chamber

Keynote: Medical Technology Innovation a Case Study for Collaboration

William A. Hawkins, III ("Bill"), Chief Executive Officer, Immucor, Inc.

9:30 a.m. Break

10:00 a.m. Panel: Obstacles & Opportunities in Academic & Industry Device Collaborations

Regulatory Perspective: Grace Powers, Regulatory Affairs Specialist, C.R. Bard, Inc.

Academic Perspective: Ravi Bellamkonda, PhD, Professor and Chair, Wallace H. Coulter Department of Biomedical Engineering, Georgia Institute of Technology and Emory University

Industry Perspective: Lou Malice, Principal, Luma Strategies, LLC

IP/licensing Perspective: Todd Sherer, PhD, Director, Office of Technology Transfer, Emory University

Pediatric Perspective: Lilly Immergluck, MD, FAAP, Associate Professor of Pediatrics and Assistant Professor of Microbiology/Biochemistry/Immunology at Morehouse School of Medicine and Pediatric Infectious Disease Specialist at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

Moderated by Tiffany Karp, Executive Director, Global Center for Medical Innovation (GCMI)

11:00 a.m. Break

11:30 a.m. Success Story: Institutional Collaborations

Introduction by Russell Allen, President and Chief Executive Officer, Georgia Bio

Speaker: Wilbur Lam, MD, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Pediatrics, Emory University School and Wallace H. Coulter Department of Biomedical Engineering, Georgia Institute of Technology and Emory University

12:15 p.m. Networking Lunch